The vſe and application.

The day of the month noted wherein the time of full ſea at any of theſe places is required, do but obſerue the 6. column of the Almanacke, and right ouer againſt the ſame day you ſhall finde the time of high water at London-bridge, to or from which time there noted, adde or ſubſtract ſuch howers and minuts as this table doth appoint, & the totall of the one, or remainder of thother is the thing you deſire, ſo that further demonſtration is needleſſe.

Note that all Inſtruments fitting the Mathematicks in generall are made in braſſe by my louing friend, M. Elias Allen, at the Bull head ouer againſt S. Clements Church-yard without Temple bar, and in wood by my kinde neighbors, M. Iohn Thompſon and Nathanael Goſſe, at their ſhops in Holiar Lane.

Paſt is that yeare when numbers 4. did number 14. make,
Firſt perfect number, twice after a vnit, place did take.
Well paſt it is, the Lord be bleſt, and God that is aboue
Defend vs from his heauy wrath, and grant that we may proue
True Conuerts, hating vanity, ambition, pride and ſtrife,
Selfe-loue, deceit vile paillardiſe, and gourmandiſing life.
Leſt ſtead of bliſſe, we catch a curſe, and ſo as guerdon haue
The iuſt decrees of fatall powers, attending to our graue.

To purge, to bath or bleed, is not debar'd,
so that the Golden meane be wel obseru'd:
It's also good to hunt, to ride and run,
so that extreames heerein thou euer shun.

To the Ingennous and Indifferent Reader.

WHereas it was my fortune lately (courteous Reader) among others to be hardly censured, and taxed, of, and for, my good opinion and practise of Astrologie, and hauing not then my spirits about me, by reason of some extraordinary hard measure offered, I gaue not the Assembly such satisfaction as was required at my hands; I thought it therefore meete and conuenient, at this time, to giue the world further notice of my conceipt thereof in generall; that it might appeare whether I haue slumbred all this while in errour, or the Art and Artists themselues vnworthily and wrongfully branded, Nam qui negligit famam crudelis est. First, therefore Astrology is knowne to be that part of Vranoscopie which declareth the reason of fore-knowing things to come by the Starres: Now as it is certaine that God made nothing in vaine, so much lesse the multitude of those glorious Orbes, the least fixed whereof (as I haue said heretofore) is proued by infallible demonstration to be aboue 18 times greater then the whole earth; Neither were they made for fashion-sake, to be gazed on onely, Sed in signa, & tempora, & dies, & annos, stella enim non sunt otiosa substantia, neq; otiosas habent vires, aut actiones, &c. For the Starrs are not idle substances, nor haue they idle power, or idle actions, saith Patricius, but haue their singular influence ouer all animall, vegetable, and mineralll creatures: whereof if you make any question do but reade some passages of learned Melanthon, Mic. Scotus, Hier. Wolfius, Io. Pontanus, Ger. Marstallerus, Mer. Mostrenius, Casp. Bartholinus, Geor. Trapezuntius, Isac. Hellenus, Mar. Ficinus, Fran. Iunctinus Christ. Leydon: Or that of Scaliger, Exer. 62, 5, 1. where he saith, Sub finitore sito sydera non solum ad praesentes rerum conditiones verumetiam ad futuras hominum vitas, fortunas, & tempestatum constitutiones conferunt: That those starres which are fixed vnder the Horizon, or in the ascendent, haue great preheminence, not onely in the present estate of things, but also ouer the liues and fortunes of men and constitution of weather: And for their influentiall power, do but peruse at leasure these places of holy Writ, viz. Gen. 1. 17, 18. Exod. 9. 18. & 10. 19 & 14. 21. Deut. 4. 19. & 28. 12. & 33. 14. Ios. 18. 11. Iud. 5. 4 20. Iob 28. 26. & 38 22 23. 31. 38 Psal. 8. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. & 19. 4. & 136. 8, 9. Esay 40. 26. Hosea 2. 21. 23, &c. and I make no question but thou wilt be on my side, as being fully

ſilly reſolued of their potentiall working, in, and vpon this inferiour Orbe; and that there is a fit and appropriate time for all things, reade *Pſal.*32.6. Eccleſiaſtes 3.1.2.3.4.5. & 7.16. & 8.9. Eccleſiaſticus 14.14. &c. Wherefore as I would not haue any man to neglect or diſpiſe theſe ſecondary meanes, but make an honeſt and religious vſe of them, and with a kind of ſacred emulation ſtriue to attaine a ſufficient habite of knowledge therein: ſo would I with no man to bee too curious in ſearching out the myſteries of nature; partly, becauſe the rude multitude are apt to blazon out ſuch to be Magicians and Coniurers as haue any extraordinary talent, or gift, that way; and partly for that wee haue but a glimpſe of true Art indeed; The excellence and perfection thereof being inueloped, and ſhrouded from our eyes by the darkeneſſe of our vnderſtanding and incapableneſſe, Eccleſiaſticus 3.24.25.26. Neuertheleſſe I would each man knew as well as I, that the Art is laudable and excellent, and not onely founded vpon good principles, and experience it ſelfe, but fraught alſo with ſtore of pleaſant matter and diuine contemplation, Cœli enim enarrant gloriam Dei, &c. And although there be many Impoſtors and Iuglers, which indeed are not veri Filij Artis, but rather Spurij and mungrils; muſt it therefore of neceſſity be granted that the Art it ſelfe is wicked and idle? God forbid that the varieties of Sects, Schiſmes, and Hereſies, ſhould make true Theologie baſely eſteemed of: Or that the horrible abuſion of the Lawes by ſome double feeling Atturnies, the ſtrange trauerſing and ſhifting of cauſes from Barre to Barre, their vaceth decrees, and variable iniunctions, ſhould cauſe the wholeſome Lawes of our Land, or honeſt Lawyers worſe thought of. In briefe, though there be knauery in all Trades (as the common ſaying is) yet the Trades themſelues may be laudable, honeſt, and very neceſſary: And ſo, craning a charitable cenſure of all men, wiſhing a thouſand times I had neuer waded ſo farre in theſe vnprofitable and thankleſſe ſtreames, I euer reſt at thy friendly diſpoſe.

Tho: Bretnor.

Certaine

Certaine Physicall Directions, and first for Phlebotomie.

HOwsoeuer honest Ruland, Botallus, and diuers other good Phisitions commend Phlebotomy, as an excellent meanes to cure many desperate diseases, yet in this our Northerne Isle, our bodies being, for the most part, more Phlegmatick and grosse then theirs to the Southward, are consequently better holpen by Vrine-purie, diuretick, and diaphoreticall meanes, then by any such effusion of bloud: yet for plethorick bodies, and diseases of a phrisicall nature, there is no safer nor speedier way to cure, then by Phlebotomie, so that bloud be taken with good discretion, and conuenient measure

From the { Sanguine / Phlegmatick / Cholerick / Melancholick } the ☽ passing vnder { ♉ ♍ or ♑ / ♈ ♌ or ♐ / ♋ ♏ or ♓ / ♊ ♎ or ♒ }

And vpon such dayes as I haue noted in this Diagnostication for good and fortunate, and signed in the 5 columne of the Almanack with △ and ✶ aspects.

The effects of due Phlebotomie according to Ruland.

THe sad in mind, it merry makes, and anger doth appease,
From madnesse fond sick louers saues, and clarifies the eyes;
The humid braine and mentall powers thereby are purifi'd,
And raging heate of choler fell is also qualifi'd.
By it the bowels purged are, and good digestion wrought,
The stomack eased, and body-safe, to natures systeme brought,
Pure senses and due sleep it yeelds, all tediousnesse expels;
Restores the hearing, voyce and strength, and Venus heate refels.

For purging.

VIolent purgations, as they disturbe the body too much, so do they expose the same to cramps, conuulsions, and such like accidents of doubtfull euent, therefore it is farre more safe to reiterate the dose, then augment the same either in quantity or quality: and because Sena Rhabarb, &c do many times purge some bodies more freely, & happily then Scamony, or such like medicins, it is very conuenient that the true crasis & temperature of the patients body be duly cõsidered and knowne. And that the medicine may worke with better successe, purge euer in a temperate season, and after the full Moone, with this caution, that

Of the Eclipses happening this yeare 1617.

THrice this yeare will some of our Earthy Inhabitants, and twice will the Solarian Planets, be darkned of the Sun his all-hearting beaming beames, whereof the latter of the Moone onely will in part appeare above our Horizon.

The first Eclipse will be of the earth (or Sun if you please) the 26 of January, 3 minutes before midnight, when our Antipodians, and such as dwell about the streights of Magellanus, shall see our halfe of the Suns body almost obscured from their eyes.

The second will happen on the ☽, the 10 of February, 41 minutes after 9 our Noone, but our Antipodians shall see the whole body of the ☽ quite darkned, and over cast, as it were, with the earths-bulke, for an houre, well neere, about their midnight.

The third will appeare vpon the Sun (or earth, which you will) the 25 of February 3 minutes before 10, when a small portion of his light will be intercepted from the North westerne inhabitants, if the Prutenicall supputation hold current.

The fourth will also happen vpon the Sun, the 22 of July, 8 minutes after 11 in the fore-noone, when something more then a quarter of his beauteous beames, will be hidden from the Lappians, Finlanders, &c. but we in great Britraine shall see no part thereof, in regard of the ☽ her too-great Northerne Latitude.

The fift and last eclipse will chance vpon the Moone the 6 of August, at 7 a clock and 12 minutes in the euening, at which instant our grandame Ops will quite intercept the Sun-shine from this side of the Selenian world, the ☽ will begin to incurre the earths shadow 25 minutes past 5, be fully obscured at 6 and 33. and recouer perfect daylight at 53 so that the continuance of this eclipse will be 3 houres 24 minutes: we at London shall not see aboue halfe thereof, but the Muscouites, Tartarians, and other Easter lings, shall perfectly behold the same, about the place of their Meridian, or Noone-stead. The effects thereof (of what nature so euer) will quickly appeare, and meet with those presumptions last yeere will neere at a point: And if vulgar Astrologie be credible (which some call in question) these eclipses, conferred with this yeares reuolution, yeeld no small argument of insuing stormes, and troublesome weatherage.

Of the foure quarters of this yeare, and first of Winter.

The 11 of December last, at 7 a clocke, and 48 minutes in the morning, did the plane of this our precious Orbe, moue in its greatest obliquity to the globe of the light, or the Sun (as the vulgar thinke) then at his furthest Declination Southward entred the first minute of the Solsticiall signe Capricorne: either which granted, the Northerly plane of this our Orbe, had longest re-sourre in darknesse, and least abode in Sun-shine, and so make longest nights and shortest dates in this our climate, at which period bid the Hiemall quarter of this yeare begynne, which is commonly taken for the first part thereof.

Touching the state of this season, I gather it will proue kindly and temperate enough in the beginning, but sometyme crabbed and harsh towards the endyng thereof.

The diseases likely to infest vs in the same will bee tedious and lingring Agues, Catarrhs, Apoplexies, great Lasts, and others, proceeding of ill diet and bad diands.

Of the Spring.

THe tenth of March this present yeare, at 8 a clock and 21 minuts in the morning, this Orbicall Systeme of ours equidistanced his widest flexures from the Sunne-bright spheare, circumuoluetb his whole plane in equal arch of light and darknesse: or the Sun (according to apparance) then entring the first scruple of the equinoctiall signe Aries, maketh day and night alike long to all Nations, and giueth beginning to our second Astronomicall quarter, vsually called the Spring.

The disposition and temper thereof is like to proue milde and pleasant enough. If the latter end of Aprill nip not too much the tender plants.

The diseases to bee feared this quarter are like to be feuers of strange nature, and doubtfull euent, fluxes, vlcers, impostumations, and pockes of each sort.

Of Summer.

THe 11 of June 37 minutes after high Noone, our orbe, after many prouolutions in the vast aire, will at last attaine the furthest limits of its southerne destination, and obiecting its Northerne mettle to fullest view of Sun-shine and least scantlet of shadow, will cause longest day and shortest night to all Arctick inhabitants: or the Sunne then entring the first step of the Tropicall signe Cancer, and mounted nearest our Zenith, limiteth the beginning of the third Astronomicall quarter, commonly called Summer.

The wetherage of this quarter is like to fall out after the vsuall manner, saueng that many sturdy gales, and summer showers will now and then be intermixed.

And for diseases, such as were presignified in the Spring are like to haunt vs this quarter, if not more violently.

Of

Brenor 1617.

Of Autumne.

The 23 of September next at 3 a clock and 2 minutes in the morning will our earthy globe agains (having his axis paralell to the Suns) move directly to his surface, and so obiects it selfe to equall portions of light and darknesse: or the Sunne (after old fantastic) then entred in the beginning of Libra, shall make the day and night of like laugth all this world over, at which instant. the fourth and last quarter of the yeare shall take his beginning, vsually called Autumne or Harueſt.

For the weatherage of this quarter I refer thee to the diurnall disposicions following: and foreseeing I gather they will fall out generally to be phrisiles, paines in the guts and belly, consumptions, rotten feuers, and other maladies of epidemicall nature.

A more particular Prediction of the Weathers Daily disposition, the places of the Planets and their Symbolicall affects.

	31 A harsh farewell.

VNderstand (friendly Philomathists) that the most excellent Tables of Logarithmes, or Proportions, deuised and penned in Latine, by the Honourable and learned Lord of Marchiston, are translated and done into English by that worthy Mathematician, Maister Edward VVright deceased, and Imprinted by Maister Nicholas Okes in a portable volume, and sold by Maister Simon VVaterson, at the Signe of the Crowne in Paules Church-yard: As also that necessary and pithy Treatise of Magneticall Bodies and Motions, written in English by the learned and iudicious Artist, Marke Ridley Doctor in Phisick and Philosophy.

NOw farewell friendship! Charitie adieu,
'Tis not a world to giue, but catch and snatch.
The vertuous minded mourne, lament and rue,
That in our bosomes we such rancor hatch,
And still our ruines with oppression patch:
For there's no day, no houre, no moment free,
But some distasts by vile ones offered be.

The wily worldling with his cunning shifts,
Out-reacheth farre the seely peasants straine,
O'r-quelling him and all his simple drifts,
Per fas & nefas, both by might and maine,
Till all his sources he doe ouer-draine,
And thinkes besides that all's too little too,
For his adherents and their wicked crew.

The soule-her-sweet-syncerities made sowre,
With leauen of such hypocrites as leaue her
Integrity thrust out of her faire bowre
Mans heart, whereof fowle enuy doth bereaue her,
And dispossest, where's he that will receiue her?
No Pubhean, no Parasite, no Knaue,
Can we conuey a saued soule to graue.

FINIS.
